

FIJI AIRWAYS AND WESTJET ANNOUNCE NEW CODESHARE PARTNERSHIP

Dear Travel Partner,

Fiji Airways and WestJet have launched a new codeshare partnership, giving Canadian travellers more convenient access to Fiji, New Zealand and the wider South Pacific.

For travel advisors, this means more options when building itineraries for clients travelling from key Canadian cities, with the ability to combine WestJet's domestic network with Fiji Airways' international services under a single booking.

Key points for the trade:

- Fiji Airways' FJ code will be available on selected WestJet domestic routes, including Calgary, Toronto, Edmonton, Winnipeg and Halifax
- WestJet's WS code will be available on Fiji Airways' Vancouver–Nadi service
- Clients can connect onward via Fiji Airways to South Pacific destinations, including Auckland, Christchurch and Wellington
- Eligible itineraries offer a simpler journey with one booking, single check-in and through-checked baggage
- Guests travelling on eligible WS-coded itineraries can earn and redeem WestJet Rewards points
- Fiji Airways' Vancouver–Nadi service increases to three weekly year-round flights from 18 June
- From 8 September, all Vancouver services will be operated by the Airbus A350, offering increased capacity and an enhanced onboard experience

This partnership creates a stronger bridge between Canada and the South Pacific, making it easier for advisors to offer seamless Fiji and beyond itineraries to leisure, VFR, honeymoon and multi-stop travellers.
