Hainan Airlines Launches Nonstop Boston – Beijing Service Effective July 19

Beijing, July 2026 — Hainan Airlines is pleased to announce that effective July 19, 2026, flight HU730 between Boston Logan International Airport (BOS) and Beijing Capital International Airport (PEK) will operate as a nonstop direct flight, eliminating the previous fuel stop in Brussels.

The updated round-trip schedule is as follows:

Flight	Route	Departure	Arrival
HU729	PEK → BOS	18:40	22:00
HU730	BOS → PEK	23:55	04:00 (+2 days)

The new nonstop routing reduces total travel time on the Boston – Beijing sector by approximately 4 hours, delivering a faster, more seamless travel experience for passengers traveling between the United States and China.

Previously, HU730 made an intermediate fuel stop in Brussels, extending the journey. The new non-stop direct service reflects Hainan Airlines' continued commitment to improving connectivity and passenger comfort on its transatlantic-transpacific routes.
